

CHRISTOPHER D. PATRICK

Senior Vice President
Transportation Group
563.587.5294 | cpatrick@cottinghambutler.com

Chris joined Cottingham & Butler in 1990 after spending two years as a claims adjuster. He immediately began calling on small trucking companies in the Midwest developing his knowledge of the transportation industry and coverage's that transportation companies needed to protect their business.

Chris has extensive experience in the alternative risk marketplace. He was part of the C&B team that started Traffic Insurance Ltd 1993 and Truck Insurance Ltd in 2000. These captives were two of the first trucking captives in the United States and continue to be very successful programs. In addition to captives Chris' knowledge and experience in Large Deductible and Self Insured Retention programs have helped his clients find the right risk financing programs for their needs.

Chris works with his clients in every aspect of the insurance and risk management programs including health insurance, employee benefits, and owner operators.

As a member of Cottingham & Butler's Executive Management team Chris has helped set the direction for the company's growth and success.
